WOUNDED LAD LOST HIS FIGHT FOR LIFE

George Smith, Shot by His 5-Year-Old Brother,
Passes Away

The gun shot, received by George Smith, son of Ted Smith of Channel Lake, ten days ago, proved fatal, when the boy lost his battle for life Saturday afternoon in St. Theresa's hospital in Waukegan.

The boy received the fatal shot when he smuggled the gun into his room after an afternoon of hunting, where his 5-year-old brother, Theodore, spied it just before going to bed, and discharged it.

He was immediately rushed to the hospital by Dr. Howard Smith, and all efforts were made to save his life, but he grew daily weaker until his death.

George was born in Chicago, September 10, 1916, but has spent most of his life near Antioch and at Channel Lake. He was a student in the seventh grade before the accident. Besides his parents, he is survived by an older brother, Robert, his little brother, Theodore, and two sisters, Virginia and Dorothy, and other relatives and friends.

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at the St. Peter's church, with interment in Mt. Carmel cemetery.

WAUKEGAN FLIERS WILL ESTABLISH AN AIRPORT HERE

VanDuzer Brothers and Mr.
VanAlstyne to Open Flying
Field Here Soon

The early opening of a flying field and the establishment of an airport here was announced this week by Frank C. VanDuzer, aviator, who is well known in Waukegan and Antioch.

Mr. VanDuzer has been flying for many years, having operated passenger carrying planes in Waukegan and also for several seasons in Antioch. Associated with him in the project is his brother, Lyle VanDuzer, and Harold VanAlstyne, also an experienced pilot who has transport and passenger carrying licenses.

The VanDuzer farm, owned by J. H. VanDuzer, which is located a mile north of Antioch, will be used as a landing field.

In connection with the airport, a lunch stand and filling station will be located on the field, and will be operated by Irvin Pofohl, who purchased three acres of land recently from Mr. VanDuzer.

The aviators plan to carry passengers in long and short flights and also conduct a flying school. The new airport will be in operation by December 1st, it is thought by the promoters.

POULTRY EVENING COURSE TO BE GIVEN AT HIGH SCHOOL

Return of Former Instructor for Short Course Is Secured

For those who displayed enthusiasm in the short courses on poultry, given at the high school several years ago, the announcement that Lyle Funk and Frank Rogers, of Elgin, Ill., will give a discussion on the rearing and brooding of baby chicks, will hold much interest. The talks are to be given at the high school auditorium Thursday evening, February 19, at 8 p. m. Mr. Rogers will speak on "Present Economic Conditions on the Farm," while 1931 prospects of the poultry industry will also be touched upon.

C. L. Knott, agriculture instructor, has secured the state department plan, "Poultry Industry in Illinois," which will be shown. The program is open to all and no admission charge will be made.

WESLEY BLUNT PASSES AWAY IN CALIF. HOME

Wesley Blunt, a resident of Lake County many years ago, passed away at his home in Pasadena, Calif., according to word received this week. Mr. Blunt was about 84 years of age, and spent much of his youth in this locality. He is survived by his brother, Charles Blunt, of Detroit, and his nephew, C. F. Richards, of Antioch, besides other sons and nephews. Death was caused by a stroke.

Scouts Get Deed to 40-Acre Camp

This group picture was taken at the Waukegan Court House during presentation of the new older boys' Scout camp to the Lake County Council. James A. Reeves is standing second from the left, handing the deed to the 40-acre camp site on Lake Waukegan to Joseph G. Raynold, president of the Lake County Council of Boy Scouts. In the group, local Scout activities and a donor of the site, Joseph G. Raynold, president of the Lake County Scout Council; Warren Blodgett, Scout executive; Garrett Wilson, trustee in charge of finance; and Dr. Otto Thompson, Scout commissioner. The new camp site, given by Messrs. A. Dixon and Reeves, is located in Washburn county, Wis., near the Minnesota state line. It is thickly wooded, ideally located for scouting, and fronts on Lake Waukegan. It will be used for older Scouts, the younger boys going to Camp Sauganash at Lily Lake until they are old enough to safely make the longer trip.

"IN SCHOOL DAYS"

Grade School High School

Enjoy Barnstorming Trip.

Coach Reed and eleven of the basketball boys spent Saturday morning to Madison and stopping at college towns. They left shortly before noon. Their first real stop was at Deloit college, where they had intended to play a game, but confusion in the time of playing cancelled it. However, they engaged the team of East Madison high, whom they led until the last quarter, when a Madison boy sank the one shot necessary to send his team ahead. The game ended in Antioch's defeat, 20-19. East Madison high has the largest playing floor in the state of Wisconsin. Between the finish of this game and the evening game at the university between the universities of Wisconsin and Minnesota, the boys visited the state capitol and the business district. In the evening they were the guests of the university—a rare honor at the game, for which a capacity crowd was present. The boys who went on the trip and enjoyed the game were Russell McNeil, Tony Fuchs, John Brogan, William Keilmann, Leroy Munsell, Art Gonerich, Robert Hughes, Warren Smith, Ward Edwards, Jack Neuhous and Jasper McCormick.

A Valentine dance was held for the freshmen at the high school Saturday evening. With Miss Roberts as class advisor, and her mother as chairman of the refreshments committee, the party and dance was a great success.

The arithmetical wizards of the five rows in the fifth grade last week, at the close of the contest, were found to be Cella Abol, Bernice Sherman, Florence Hackitt, George Hawkins and Marie Muech. The contest this week will be in history.

The high school and grade school students were examined by Dr. Boebe Monday and Wednesday of this week for scarlet fever, but no other victims were found since Valscio Wilton, sixth grade, became ill with the disease. Mary Wikstrom, of Lake Villa, a student in the high school, became ill Sunday.

Illness has also laid hands on a number of pupils in the Oakland school. Jean and Phyllis Hughes, Donald Minto and Joe Sheehan have been afflicted with the mumps, and Ruth and Margaret Pierstorff have just recovered from the flu. The county superintendent of schools, T. A. Simpson, visited the school Friday.

QUILT SHOW WILL BE GIVEN

BY THE WAUKEGAN D. A. R. Among the feature attractions in Waukegan this week will be the Quilt Show put on by the Waukegan Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution at the Parish House, 410 Grand avenue, Friday and Saturday, February 20 and 21. The hours will be from 1 to 6 p. m. and evenings from 7 to 9.

About 200 quilts, rare, old, and colorful new ones, will be exhibited; also shawls, coverlets and hooked and braided rugs. There will be music, and afternoon tea will be served. Mrs. Elizabeth Wolk Robertson, art supervisor of the Chicago public schools, will display picture quilts and lecture on "The History of Quilts," Saturday, at 3 o'clock. Admission is 50 cents.

FARM HOUSE AT HICKORY TOTALLY DESTROYED BY FIRE

Fire of Unknown Origin
Takes Home of Clarence Spiering

Total destruction of the home of Clarence Spiering by fire, followed the narrow escape of Spiering, his wife and child from the burning house Sunday morning.

Although the cause of the fire is not known, it is believed that it must have come from the fire built in the stove about midnight when the family returned from Chicago and prepared a lunch. After the meal they retired to their rooms on the second floor. Awakened by the frenzied barking of the dog about two hours later, Spiering discovered the dining room to be all ablaze, and had scarcely time to save his wife and child before the stairs were a mass of flames.

The fire had already gained such headway before it was discovered that the Antioch volunteer fire department, upon their arrival, was helpless to check the flames. The loss of the house, all of the contents, and the clothing, is estimated to be almost $5,000.

Companionship Great, Rev. Haggerty Tells Fathers-Sons, Dinners

Nearly a Hundred Attend
Annual Father-Son
Banquet

Companionship between fathers and sons is one of the greatest factors in leading boys to a useful and honorable existence, Rev. Harold Haggerty, Richmond pastor, advised nearly a hundred fathers and sons assembled at the Antioch Methodist church Friday evening when the annual father and son banquet was served by the ladies of the Aid society.

Instructions of wrong doing are unnatural but are acquired by boys through association with evil companions, the pastor asserted. Rev. Haggerty was for some years an attaché of the Chicago juvenile court, and hundreds of cases came under his observation.

Principal W. C. Petty was toastmaster, and the singing was led by E. E. Pollock. Toasts were given by Jack Panovak, S. B. Nelson, Harold Nelson, George Bartlett, Robert Brogan, and E. A. Grimsbacher. The meeting was combined with the regular bi-monthly meeting of the Men's Club.

The men will cook and serve the dinner to be given for mothers and daughters at the church Thursday evening, February 28.

MRS. WALSACE ENTERS TAINS AT BRIDGE

The Tuesday bridge club met at the home of Mrs. S. M. Walsace this week. Three tables of cards were played, Mrs. Frank Hunt and Mrs. Adolph Pease winning the prizes.

Chase Webb spent Monday in Chicago, transacting business.

Whitmore Announces Unique Auto Contest

Cash Prizes for Good Judgment Is Offer of Chevrolet Dealer Here

A unique contest with real cash prizes as prizes was announced last week by G. A. Whitmore of the Whitmore Chevrolet Co. Mr. Whitmore is offering $250 in prizes, $150 as first prize and $100 as second prize to the persons making the ten most important reasons why "It's wise to choose a Chevrolet Six." The Chevrolet Motor Co. advertises 100 such reasons, and all the contestants have to do is to name the ten most important ones.

The hundred reasons are listed in a large advertisement on page 8 of today's News, together with voting instructions and the method of making the award of prizes. There are no strings to the offer and no expenditure is involved.

The contest affords opportunity of earning cash with very little effort.

Both Classic and Modern Music on Festival Program

Final arrangements for the third annual Music Festival to be held at the high school auditorium Monday evening, February 23, were announced this week. The concert will be presented in two divisions, the first of which will consist entirely of popular songs and dance tunes of the present day, which have been arranged by Hans von Holst and will be played in symphonic style by the jazz orchestra; the second group, excepting only the junior orchestra numbers, will be devoted to classic and semi-classic selections.

John Tellasha, violinist, will be the soloist of the evening.

A copy of the program follows:

BRIDGE CLUB ENTERS TAINED BY MRS. KNOTT

Mrs. John Knott was the hostess to a group of friends at a bridge party at her home Tuesday afternoon. Two tables were played, with Mrs. Frank Dobbie and Mrs. John Brogan winning the prize.

Father Beemsterboer Is Lenten Preacher

Father Beemsterboer, professor at the Quigley Preparatory Seminary, Chicago, will come to Antioch every Wednesday evening during Lent to preach the following sermons at St. Peter's Lenten devotions:

February 18—The Spirit of Lent.

February 25—Why Are the Sacraments?

March 4—What is a Christian?

March 11—The Forgiveness of Sin.

March 18—The Food of the Christian.

March 25—The Sacrifice of the Cross and the Sacrifice of the Mass.

Father Beemsterboer is noted as one of the best philosophical preachers on Catholic doctrine.

Father Frawley, pastor, extends a cordial and welcome invitation to the people of Antioch, regardless of creed, to attend these sermons. They will begin promptly every Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

The Friday evening devotions will consist of The Way of the Cross and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

ACCIDENTS ARE NUMEROUS ON THE WEEK-END

The smoke from a slough fire was responsible for the collision of E. E. Field's milk truck and Ray Winfield's Chevrolet east of Pikeville Corners, about 10 o'clock Monday morning. Both cars were badly damaged, and Winfield, of Pikeville, suffered face cuts.

The car of W. H. Baumann, of Channel Lake, was struck by a Chevrolet Sunday evening near the electric state near Salem. The rear, top, fender and wheel were wrecked.

Another accident also occurred Sunday evening, when Richard Kay's car was badly damaged, although the driver escaped injuries, when an Oldsmobile struck his car near the State Line Inn, Wis.

ANTIOCH PIONEER DIES IN 88TH YEAR

John Spafford, a Retired Farmer, Succumbs to Pneumonia

Another of Antioch's venerable citizens passed away early Monday morning, when John Spafford, after a two weeks' illness of influenza which developed into pneumonia, was taken by death. His health, however, began to fall seven years ago.

Ranked among the oldest men of Antioch, said to be second only to David Pullee in age, he has seen Antioch develop from a pioneering village to the present modern town. He was born in a log cabin in Bristol, Wis., September 17, 1847, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Abner Spafford. While he was still a child, the family moved to a farm near Pikeville Corners, and it was in this community that he lived as a farmer until nineteen years ago, when he retired and came to Antioch to spend his remaining years. February 25, 1906, he wedded Lily Perry, of Antioch.

He is survived by two children, Mrs. Luray Messager, of Antioch, and Howard, an intern in Chicago, four grandchildren and several nieces and nephews. His wife preceded him in death five years ago.

Funeral services were held yesterday at the Methodist church. Interment was in the Union cemetery at Hickory.

Henry Little, Former Antioch Resident, Dies

Henry Ward Little, for years a resident of Grass Lake and the community of Antioch, succumbed to a heart attack in his Waukegan home Friday night.

He was born in Grass Lake June 29, 1858, and spent his early life there with his parents until 1882, when he married Mary Ellen Herman, and moved to Waukegan, N. D., and engaged in wheat farming. Since 1894 he has been engaged in the moving and draying business in Waukegan.

His widow, a daughter, Mrs. George Watkins, of Waukegan, a son, A. C. Little, of Chicago, a sister, Mrs. George Richards, of Shell Rock, Ia., and other relatives in Antioch survive him.

INFORMAL BRIDGE PARTY GIVEN BY MRS. KEULMAN

Mrs. Russell Keulman entertained at card Saturday evening. The winners of the two tables of bridge were Mrs. S. N. Walsace and Mrs. Babine.

James Van der Linde, 10, is recovering from face bruises received when he was struck in the face by a ball bat at school. He was taken to St. Theresa hospital Monday and returned yesterday.

T. A. SIMPSON IS APPOINTED TO STATE POSITION

Co. School Supt. to Become Blair's Assistant on March 10

T. Arthur Simpson, superintendent of Lake county schools, has been appointed assistant superintendent of the state department, to take effect March 10. Official notification of the appointment was received Friday, whereupon Mr. Simpson tendered his resignation to County Clerk Low A. Hendee, and will ask the county board of supervisors to accept the resignation at the meeting March 10.

Suggests Petty as Successor.

In his resignation, Mr. Simpson suggests that his successor to the county superintendent's office, W. C. Petty, of Antioch, take office immediately. Mr. Petty, present supervising principal of the local schools, was elected last November 4 to take office on next August 1.

Mr. Petty, who is ill at his home on Spafford street, stated today that he had not been advised by anyone as to what action the board of supervisors would take when the group meets March 10. It is well known, however, that there are few in the county who can qualify, and it is quite likely that there will be no candidates for the appointment to fill the unexpired term.

Simpson to Leave County.

Mr. Simpson is president of the Lake County Teachers' association and has been active in civic and welfare activities in the county.

He and his family plan to move to Springfield on March 10, when he is to report to the state education department in his official capacity. He succeeds U. J. Hoffman, who held the assistant superintendent's post for many years until his death last month.

ANTIOCH TROUNCES ELA; TO PLAY 3RD WITH LIBERTYVILLE

Bensenville Takes Third of Series with the Local High School

Antioch hopes to more than throw a scare into the Libertyville Wildcats Friday evening at Libertyville, when they play their third engagement. Libertyville has defeated Antioch on the two previous occasions by a considerable margin, although in the first game Antioch did manage to excite their opponents to frenzied action during the latter part of the game. Kings will be unable to play, because of illness, and Keulman is the latest athlete victim of the mumps.

The Antioch Sequoias demonstrated some fast playing Monday night at Lake Zurich, when they defeated the Elia high school 42-29. During the first quarter, however, the locals seemed paralyzed as the Elia boys sank their baskets, and the score stood 12-0 in Elia's favor when the quarter ended. During the second quarter the boys staged a surprising rally, chalking up twenty points to their opponent's five. From then on the game was in their hands, with no opposition. McNeil gave proof of developing into the same type of aggressive guard that his brother was last year. Fuchs, although just recovered from illness, played a remarkable game, Warren Smith, during the short time that he played, sank several shots, and Hughes showed signs of snapping out of the deadness due to illness.

Bensenville took the third. That speaks for itself. There was only one time during the game Friday night when Antioch had grounds for hope, and that was during the second half, when the boys lagged by but three points; but Bensenville pulled away, and took the game, 24-18. Fuchs was going strong during the early part of the game, but weakened, leaving Johnny Brogan to carry on.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hints and daughter, Bernadine, were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Tronson.

Miss Virginia Hachmeister spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kennedy, of Hickory. Richard Kennedy also spent the week-end with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hahn and family and Mr. and Mrs. A. Hanson and family, of Chicago, visited the T. A. Somerville home last Thursday.

Miss Julia Stricker spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hanson, of Chicago, and returned yesterday.

BUSINESS TO SOLVE UNEMPLOYMENT

A new economic era, with business assuming the responsibility for unemployment, is dawning, in the opinion of Colonel Arthur Woods, chairman of the President's emergency committee for employment.

"Arising out of this and earlier depressions," Colonel Woods says, "we have the beginning of . . . an era in which business management realizes its responsibility toward the continuous employment of the producing unit, which is also the consuming unit. Business men know today that their employees are also their customers."

He made it clear that plans of individual corporations for relieving or preventing unemployment so far had been "experimental," but expressed the belief that while no common plan had emerged, "common principles are beginning to be apparent."

It may be that the depression will prove the means of developing an industrial consciousness that will prevent unemployment in the future.

NOT FOR THE DOLE

Ex-president Coolidge and President Hoover have come to the same conclusion, based on their experience, that the country does not believe in any kind of dole such as Great Britain has committed itself to. "If any member of Congress wishes to propose any form of dole measure that is his right and the bill should be considered on its merits," is the way Coolidge puts it to the public. But it is apparent that neither of these leaders will help fasten it upon the American people.

THE DIFFERENCE

"I can sit in my office and decide something for a contractor in twenty minutes. For the state or the city to make the same decision might take two or three weeks."

— Alfred E. Smith, former governor of New York.

GETTING THE ARSONIST

The conviction of 32 arsonists in Illinois last year established a new high record for the division of fire prevention, according to S. L. Legried, State Fire Marshal.

This success, he says, was made in the face of the fact that Illinois has experienced its most serious wave of arson during the past two years.

In Illinois deputy fire marshals investigate all suspicious fires and follow up clues. Community cooperation, through local arson squads, has been helpful in directing the attention of the authorities to cases that might otherwise have been overlooked. The passage of a new arson law, containing a sliding scale of penalties making it possible to fit the punishment to the seriousness of the crime has been of assistance.

All states would do well to follow the example of Illinois. Arson, one of the most despicable crimes, is likewise one of the most difficult to conquer. The arsonist works most stealthily and can only be traced by expert investigators. He causes a gigantic annual destruction of property and life. Every time one of his kind is convicted it is, in the fullest sense of the word, a public service.

NEW INSTINCTS OF CAUTION

Why does anyone require instruction in safety? Are the old instincts of self interest and self preservation dead within us that we need a lot of ballyhoo and propaganda to keep us alive?

We have often wondered just where the safety movement fitted into the philosophical scheme of things but it was only by chance that we got a clue to it. A little pup not much bigger than a pint of apple beverage wanted to cross the street. The stream of cars tearing along in both directions averted him for his expectancy. But he walked along the curb to the corner where there was a controlled pedestrian crossing and there, first looking to the left and then to the right, he crossed in safety.

That pup's ancestors undoubtedly were saved many a time from their natural enemies by their instincts of self preservation, instincts which they in turn undoubtedly handed down to our friend the pup. But of what use were they against a stream of automobiles? Of what good are our senses as safeguards, when they are constantly subjected to a roar of sound, a flood of light, smells and tastes a hundred fold greater than even our immediate ancestors knew? Not much. We have to learn as did the pup that certain things are safe and others are unsafe—arbitrarily, by taboo. Like table salt and cyanide of potassium, the middle of the block or the corner with its signals.

The reason for safety propaganda is economic. The dead and mutilated are full of knowledge by experience but they are not good for much more than examples. It is cheaper to teach new instincts of caution. It is cheaper to instruct and insist on the right way as the only way, than to let each man try to learn by his own mistakes.

CROWD VIEWS FIRST SCOUTCRAFT SHOW

Lake Co. Scouts Presented With Forty Acres of Camp Land

Eleven hundred people viewed the first annual Scoutcraft Show at the Waukegan Armory Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week.

The Scoutcraft Show demonstrated the requirements and activities for thirty merit badges out of the ninety that are included in the complete Scout program. Original, impressive and detailed exhibits were displayed by all the troops, with particularly fine work shown in signmaking, camping, pioneering, photography, carpentry, bookkeeping, radio, and boat building. County interest has been stirred by the Scouting movement, with the result that the many Scout troops received the backing of home institutions and business firms in managing their first annual Scoutcraft Show.

Sixteen of the twenty-two troops of the council participated in the demonstrations, each of these having at least one booth in which to demonstrate their activity.

Boy Scouts Given Camp Site. As a climax to the festivities of Scout Anniversary Week, being celebrated by the Lake County Council, Boy Scouts of America, the council was presented with a 40-acre camp site on Lake Waukegan, in the Daily News subdivision in northern Wisconsin, Friday, February 13.

The land is the gift of James A. Reeves, Ray H. Dixon and Mrs. Mary H. Dixon, backers of Scouting, who made the presentation of the camp site to Joseph G. Raynolds, president of the Lake County Council of Boy Scouts.

The 40-acre tract, located on Lake Waukegan, in Waukegan county, Wis., near the Minnesota state line, is situated amidst the St. Croix waters, which form a chain of lakes and rivers stretching many miles. Because of the extreme wildness of the locality the camp will be used for Scouts who are 16 years of age and older, and who have had at least two or three years of camping experience. Except for the building of a permanent cabin for storing equipment, the camp will be left in its wild state, Scout Executive Warren Blodgett stated.

For the younger boys the usual Scout camp period will be held at Camp Sauganash this summer.

On the outskirts of Waukegan they tell us there's a sign. "Cometery," and right below it another sign, "Tires will not you there."

You folks who have families—you're the ones who can really appreciate a summer cottage. Nothing is finer for the children, a real vacation for you. Talk it over with us.

Last Saturday was Valentine's day. We wonder what has become of the old-fashioned variety with lots of lace and little red hearts?

Thinking of a summer cottage? Come in and look over our plans. By building to a standard plan we can save you money. No obligation, of course.

The saddest words that ever were said: "We've got a terrible cold in the head!"

How we know that spring is on its way: 1. We saw some boys playing marbles. 2. The last Christmas decorations have disappeared. 3. We couldn't do a darned bit of work all afternoon.

Build a workbench for your son in the basement and let him have a few tools. Let the other boys come in and help him make something. It will keep him at home out of mischief and enable him to learn something useful as well. Got the material you need right here at our yard.

Another thing that does not always turn out just as it should is the automobile just ahead.

We want to say to you in all sincerity—we have never seen a better time than right now to carry out a building program. Costs are lower. Shipments of material are prompt. Labor is plentiful. If you doubt us, let's get figures for you.

We told one Antioch man the other day that he wasn't looking so well, and he said, "Yes, I've lost 8 pounds since my wife went on a diet."

The shutter in your furnace fire door should be open after every firing. Otherwise, fuel gases are likely to collect, and an explosion or "puff" may follow. Simple thing to watch, but very important.

TOPPY'S TRAVELS

Synopsis: Topsy leaves home to follow his canary. After many adventures, he escapes from the hands of his enemies, the Pillows. His friends, Mr. Frog and Toy, the dewdrop, leave him hidden in a garden, while they go and arrange for the Cushions to fight the Pillows. Thus they hope to rescue the Cloud-Queen, whose people are being held by the Pillows. When Mr. Frog falls to return, Topsy leaves his hiding place, finds food, but cannot get back to the nest because guards have been placed in the garden. Continue.

"Topsy was dismayed when he beheld the guards in the garden. Something must be done, and quickly, before the soldiers turned and saw him. The warriors were talking excitedly and in high voices. Topsy's curiosity overcame his fear for a moment, and crouching against the garden gate, he listened.

"Now, are you all here?" a voice shouted.

Someone began counting the warriors, and presently reported that all were present.

"Fine!" exclaimed the same person. "Now, all listen carefully."

A hush fell over the group, and Topsy, endeavoring to make himself invisible, also strained his ears to hear.

"Our Queen is in difficulty," the voice continued. "The Cushions, as you have already heard, refuse to accept the land our Queen offers, and insists on more, or they will fight. Already some of the Cloud-Queen's subjects are venturing across the boundary line at night, and are joining the Cushion forces. This last week, we have stationed guards throughout this land, to prevent them from leaving. We have sent so many that there is but this one group of us left. And now, today, our Queen calls for an army of the strongest warriors. Who will then guard our prisoners in the Castle?"

"Let them starve!" someone shouted. "Lock them up and let them starve."

"That is not our customary rule. What if you should die within the next year? That is very likely, if you are ordered to go to war," the first speaker objected.

At that, a look of terror spread over the other Pillows' faces. Topsy, remembering what his guard had told him about killing, felt slightly cheered. But he wondered why the Pillows connected their own death with killing others. In a moment he found out.

"Our good saint must be angry with us now to send this disturbing. We should recognize this as a warning, and take heed. No, we cannot kill the Clouds when war is in prospect, or the Saint will cause us all to be slain within a year, and we would be forever barred from joining the Drapes."

Topsy thought that this was a funny superstition. He had heard his father talking about superstitious people, and now he really was seeing them, and they were more superstitious than any his father had ever seen. He forgot this thought, however, when the Pillows began talking again.

"We will divide this group into two sections. One will be sent to the aid of the Queen, and the others must guard the Castle. The east half will now go to the Castle, while I give the west division some drill before we go tomorrow."

All the soldiers on the east part of the garden began to move toward the castle. Topsy looked around wildly. Surely they would see him now. Although it had grown rather dark, he had no hopes of not being seen, because he was so entirely different from the Pillows.

As the first Pillow reached the gate and passed through without glancing in Topsy's direction, Topsy secretly dared breathe. A second passed through, and yet a third, while the boy trembled. But the fourth suddenly screamed loudly, and Topsy knew that he had been discovered. He jumped up and brandished his sword in the face of the startled guard.

Prosperity 100 Cents Returns to Point of Beginning

That elusive being, bearing the apt appellation of Prosperity Dollar, has been traced to its lair, from whence it seems, it has not issued. And the fair? The shop of the person who conceived the idea, Hachmeister's, Quality Meat Market. Whether the adventures of this dollar in Antioch are ended, or whether it shall sally forth on a new series, is not known, for at present it travels with Mr. Hachmeister into the Blue Grass country. Since last mention of its wanderings in the News, the following names have been appended to the accompanying slip: Chase Webb, James Dunn, Arthur Van Patton, William Regan, Irving Elms, Somerville's Restaurant, Williams Bros. Department Store, William Gray, Orin Hachmeister, the Antioch Packing House, the North End Grocery, and O. E. Hachmeister.

At all Shell stations beginning Saturday, February 21

It's new... a real advance! Super-Shell Ethyl

Livelier, quicker anti-knock gasoline... because science has found a way to REMOVE EVERY SLOW-VAPORIZING, LAZY PARTICLE

Visualizing a section of one of the multiple "bubble cap trays" in Shell's refining and "scrubbing" towers. Here all the heavy, lazy particles are washed out, producing the volatile, lively gasoline base for Super-Shell Ethyl.

Now... science's new, perfected anti-knock fuel!

Super-Shell Ethyl is different. It contains Ethyl fluid, of course—a generous charge that assures positive anti-knock value. But with this is now blended a special gasoline.

Shell engineers developed it. They knew that inferior gasoline—no matter what was added—doesn't deliver best performance in your car. They set out to make anti-knock fuel, utterly free of slow-burning, harmful, "heavy" gasoline particles. Months of experiment... then they succeeded!

It is a matter of "washing" the gasoline in a series of huge refining towers where the gasoline vapors travel over Shell's amazing system of "bubble cap trays." Here all the harmful, heavy "fractions" so often left in gasoline are "scrubbed" out.

Into a special pipe flows only the volatile, lively gasoline which Shell blends with Ethyl fluid!

Thus Super-Shell Ethyl gives you finest engine operation. Quick starting. Smooth, even power. High anti-knock value.

Now... see what really fine performance your motor is capable of giving. Try this new Super-Shell Ethyl today. One test will convince you.

The Community Builders of Lake County, Ill., is an institution of progressive, right thinking, broadminded merchants, manufacturers, jobbers, business and professional men. Its membership is formed by careful selection of the most representative men in their particular calling—men, who, by virtue of their God-given talent, can be relied upon to co-operate cheerfully with their fellows in actively supporting the Community Builder movement in its steady, unflinching march toward the attainment of its high ideals. The Community Builder idea is the application of the golden rule to the modern every day life—it is the principle in action. The Community Builders are helping young men and young women to find their proper places in the world's work.

Community Builders are students of human nature. The Community Builder institution is a great experimental station in the field of human experience. The Community Builder emblem on the door of a business establishment or a professional man's office assures you that the proprietor has the ability to render 100 per cent service in his particular line.

Every Community Builder institution takes an active part in civic activities of a constructive nature. It helps to mobilize the strong business men behind a local program of civic development. The business men are today fully awakened to their civic responsibility, but often have not found an organization in which they may invest their time and energy with the assurance that real results may be secured. Briefly, the Community Builder institution is simply a medium of expression through which a man may invest that part of his time and effort which he desires to contribute to the development of his city.

Combine Well

Wonder what Martha Washington would say, could she step into the modern home today? "No backbone," would no doubt be her thought, voiced or unvoiced. For we do have things much more comfortable, more informal, with less of that stiff preciseness which our grandmothers considered in good taste.

With the present trend toward colonial arrangements, or French, Revolution pieces, we still retain the ease and comfort of modern furniture. Often upholstered furniture and imitation "period" pieces are combined. One combination seen recently was of a set of blue mohair damask upholstered furniture, and maple Colonial reproductions, covered with antique satin in mauve and beige, with foot stouffes of overlapping petals. The general appearance of the room was most restful, as the walls were of powder blue, the floor length curtains of apricot brocade, straight chairs of an all-over gold diamond pattern, harmonizing with the diamond design in the wall paper and in the copper-colored rug. Clever knickknacks about the fireplace and smaller articles of furniture lent a light decorative, yet informal air to the otherwise solid "respectability."

Mrs. Ritchey, in paragraphs about furniture and rugs, points out common misarrangements.

"The arrangement of the furniture and rugs is a part of home management which is vitally important. A common error is to throw the rugs, especially if there are several in the room, upon the floor in an oblique or cat-cornered position, so that no line boundary of the rug is parallel to, or in harmony with, the boundary lines of the floor. The simple thing to do is to place the rug in harmony with the structure of the floor.

Also, the dominating pieces of furniture, such as a davenport, piano, and tables, should be placed in the room straight along the wall or parallel with the structure of the floor. However, small pieces, like chairs, radios, and the like, may be placed in a cat-cornered fashion.

"The furniture should be arranged in such a manner that it will be balanced either in a symmetrical or occult fashion, or, in other words, in formal or informal style. Furniture should never be placed with too many heavy pieces on one side of the room, to give a feeling that the room might topple over. A heavy piece of furniture on one side of the room should be balanced by a heavy piece or cluster of smaller pieces on the other side."

Try These Unusual
Food SuggestionsHere Are Waffles, Muffins, Cherries and Ham for Washington

Many housewives will be planning George Washington dinners next Sunday, or wondering what in the world they can serve appropriate to his memory, at their bridge supper. More elaborate meal preparation will be in progress on the anniversary this year than on most seasons, because of the fact that it occurs on Sunday. It would be a shame to allow an opportunity that provides such scope for originality to pass without entertaining, or being entertained.

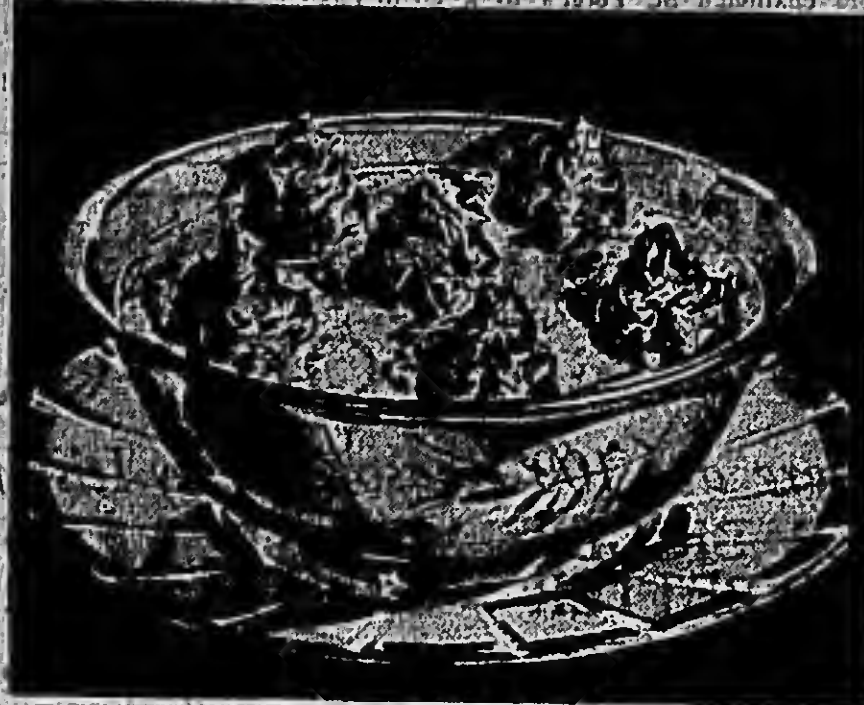

Waffle suppers have often been recommended for bridge suppers, but hark to this new twist, and note the cherry salad. Then imagine sitting sedately in a colonial home, partaking of this delicious repast.

Banana Waffles.
Stir together 2 cups flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 4 teaspoons baking powder. Add 6 egg yolks and 1 cup rich milk, beaten thoroughly. Stir in 4 tablespoons melted shortening and 4 finely chopped ripe bananas. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in hot waffle iron.

Stuffed Cherry Salad.
Remove the seeds from 2 pounds cherries, and stuff them with the following filling: Mix together thoroughly 2 cakes of cream cheese, 2-3 cup of crushed pecans, 6 tablespoons mayonnaise, a dash of cayenne pepper, and salt to taste. Serve on lettuce leaves with French dressing. This will serve 12 persons.

Washington Dinner.
Of course, you will want a Virginia ham, but here comes a surprise, proudly borne on a plate by a grinning turkey-beaming honey bread muffin.

Winter Dried Fruits and Tapioca
Aid Housewives in Menu Making

MAKING a resolution to budget the household allowance more carefully and yet to give the family nourishing and tasty meals, wives and mothers are on the look out for new recipes. For high days and holidays, come and go, but the task of providing three meals daily goes on all year.

The winter dried fruits—figs, raisins, apricots, dates and prunes—can be made into a wealth of delicious desserts at small cost. They are Nature's own sweets packed with sugar for winter energy and should appear on the table often during the cold weather.

Here is a colorful Apricot Tapioca that tactful wives will serve after the Monday potluck meal. Even Junior will be willing to eat his carrots if he is rewarded by such a dessert.

APRICOT TAPIOCA
1/2 pound dried apricots 3 tablespoons quick cooking Tapioca
3 cups water 1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar
Wash apricots. Soak in 3 cups water 1 hour, and cook until tender. Drain. To juice, add enough water to make 2 cups liquid. Add Tapioca and salt, and cook in double boiler 15 minutes, or until Tapioca is clear, stirring frequently. Add sugar. Cool. Force apricots through sieve. Fold pulp (about 1 cup) into Tapioca mixture. Chill and serve with whipped cream. Serves 6.

FROM NORWAY
The lowly boarding house prune has come into its own, magically transformed by modern cook-craft into a variety of delicious desserts. Here is one of them. And it is so simple to make that you can put it on your list of last minute desserts for busy days.

NORWEGIAN PRUNE TAPIOCA
4 tablespoons quick cooking Tapioca 1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar 1/2 cup apricot juice or juice and water
1-inch stick cinnamon 1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup cooked prunes, seeded and finely cut
Add Tapioca, salt, and cinnamon to prune juice, and cook in double boiler 15 minutes, or until Tapioca is clear, stirring frequently. Remove cinnamon (if stick is used), add sugar, lemon juice, and prunes. Chill. Serve with cream. Serves 6.

Honey Bran Muffins.
1 tablespoon melted fat 1 egg, beaten slightly
1/2 cup honey 1/2 cup sour milk
1/2 cup raisins or nuts 1 cup bran
1/2 cup Graham or whole-wheat flour 1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon soda 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
Mix melted fat and honey. Add beaten egg. Mix all dry ingredients and sift twice. Alternately add sour milk, flour mixture, egg and honey mixture until all has been added. Bake in a well-greased muffin tin. Batter may stand overnight in refrigerator, and be baked in the morning if desired. Baking time—thirty minutes; oven heat—400 degrees F.

hours preparation. Method: Remove stockinet covering from a 10-pound ham. Cover with cold water, add 3 carrots, 2 onions, a stalk of celery, 4 cloves, a blade of mace, 2 bay leaves, a pinch of mace, and 1 tablespoonful dark molasses. Let come to a boil, then simmer for three hours, cool in the liquor. When cold, remove the rind, cut ham into thin slices and serve cold.

TEACH LITTLE ONES NOT TO BE "FINICKY"

"You must be a little lady or a little gentleman" was preached in the Colonial days, when Washington was a young blade. And a more Puritan belief was to "spare the rod and spoil the child." Whipping is not looked upon favorably today, but some mothers over-do their leniency. Children should be handled firmly, but in such a manner that their natural confidence is not destroyed.

You have all seen those quaint pictures of children perched upon a stool being forced to eat food which was good for them. Different methods are used today. If, when a child is about 2 or 3 years old, he refuses his food, allow him sufficient time to make up his stubborn little mind to eat it—about half an hour, then, if the food remains on the plate, remove it and serve it reheated or refrigerated.

Sometimes just a plain lack of appetite causes them to peevishly refuse their food. If this has been found that, if the little child, released before a meal, resting, or lying quietly while someone reads to him, he will eat better.

Sately, refined ladies of Washington's day, although wiser than many of us might suppose in the art of make-up, nevertheless were handicapped because cosmetics were not in general use, and the fine distinctions in quality and coloring necessary for milled today were unknown. Yet even today there are some who just slap on the rouge, with no regard for their own facial contours and colorings. Doris Hale gives us some pointers.

Rouge for the pale skin with too little natural coloring must be selected carefully. Too-dark rouge takes all the charm from this type of skin, while a too-pale tint does not account the coloring enough. I suggest cream rouge in a carmine shade. Brunette or rachel powder will provide a perfect flush for the pale skin.

Older women usually find their skin getting ruddier than they like. Clever make-up will do wonders for your skin if it is this type. Above all, be very careful about your rouge. You may not need rouge at all, but if you do, apply it sparingly. A bit of crimson cream rouge is best. Above all, never use rouge with a dark purplish tinge, for this shade of rouge is unbefitting to any skin. And pinkish powder would be all wrong for a ruddy skin—which needs a light tan powder to tone down its color.

Perhaps your skin is perfectly healthy but somehow lacks distinction, and looks a little sallow at times. Or perhaps it is darker than it should be from sunburn and neglect in the past. In either case, rouge is very important, for without it women with this type of skin often look ill, even though they feel perfectly well. I recommend cherry or carmine rouge. The right rouge correctly applied can change this type from plainness into beauty.

As to powder, let me emphasize the importance of selecting a shade that

We can help you solve your printing problems

will take the yellowness away from your skin. A peachy glow—that is, a combination of yellow and pink tints—is the best powder for a sallow or darkened skin. French tints are found in brunette or rachel powder. If this seems too pale, mix in a little light tan powder, and shake up the box carefully, to get a perfect match for your skin.

CRYSTAL THEATRE

The "Awakening of John Sator," characterized as the play of plays and the comedy of comedies, is the title of the next spoken drama by the Rotnour players next Tuesday night at the Crystal. The play was shown here two years ago, and was one of the first stage there by Mr. Rotnour and his company. The production met with such universal approval that "J. S." has been requested to repeat it here.

There will be the usual vocal specialties between the acts. The Rotnour company will offer much in entertainment next Tuesday night at the Crystal.

KENOSHA THEATRE

Leon Errol, funny man extraordinary, first rank comic of stage and screen, is that rare specimen, an actor enamored of his latest role.

He has no fault to find with the comic situations and the screamingly hilarious lines supplied him by Louis Bromfield, the famous novelist, who wrote the story of "One Heavenly Night," which headed by Evelyn Laye and John Bates is now playing at the Kenosha Theatre.

"It's the work of a genius," declares Errol. "It has all the glamour and the safety of a musical comedy, which is so appealing, and yet, though it has lots of music and song, it is a romantic comedy with, as the publicity boys say, 'a strong heart interest.'

"Louis Bromfield, Sidney Howard, and my good friend, George Fitzmaurice, the director, have pulled the plot out here and tucked it in there, provided swell atmosphere and situations, and injected comedy, love and drama in such proportions that, with all its frolicsome qualities, it has no resemblance to a musical comedy, or a 'song show.'

"That's genius. And by heading the cast with these superb artists, Evelyn Laye and John Bates, and providing Lilyan Tashman and—ahem—myself—to support them, the piece takes on the distinction appreciated by music lovers generally.

"About myself? Me? Talk about myself? Don't be funny. That's my business."

Town Team Challenges St. Peter's in 3-Game Series

Since the more recently organized St. Peter's team has come to the fore and threatened the supremacy of the town team, a friendly rivalry has arisen between the two teams. The town team has announced that its members challenge St. Peter's to a 3-game series, to be played at the convenience of the latter.

Both Teams Are Good.

The teams to be equally good and the contest will arouse much interest and speculation. Monday evening, the town team swamped the Fox Lake boys, 62-17, with Wertz and Bown as the "hot shots," playing wonderful ball with the steady support of their team mates.

A solitary point lost the game at Lake Forest Tuesday night, when the town team journeyed there and engaged the Lake Forest A. C. As the final minute passed into eternity, the local team lagged, 27-26. They will go to Lake Forest for a return game Monday night, and Tuesday evening they expect to meet Genoa City.

St. Peter's also has been winning, but they refuse to accept credit for the 36-17 victory over the Moose last Thursday night, as the Moose were handicapped by having only one regular player.

The schedule for tonight's game has been changed, and St. Peter's will play Gurnee here, instead of Grayslake, as stated last week. The Wilmet Pirates will play here again next Thursday, February 29.

ADVENTURE WITH A SPERM WHALE

It was while I was harpooning on th' whaling bark, Rufus Wood, that I had a close call from goin' to Dav Jones' locker. Here's what happened:

One fine mornin' we were bowlin' along with all sails set when th' lookout aloft bellowed "Thar she blows!"

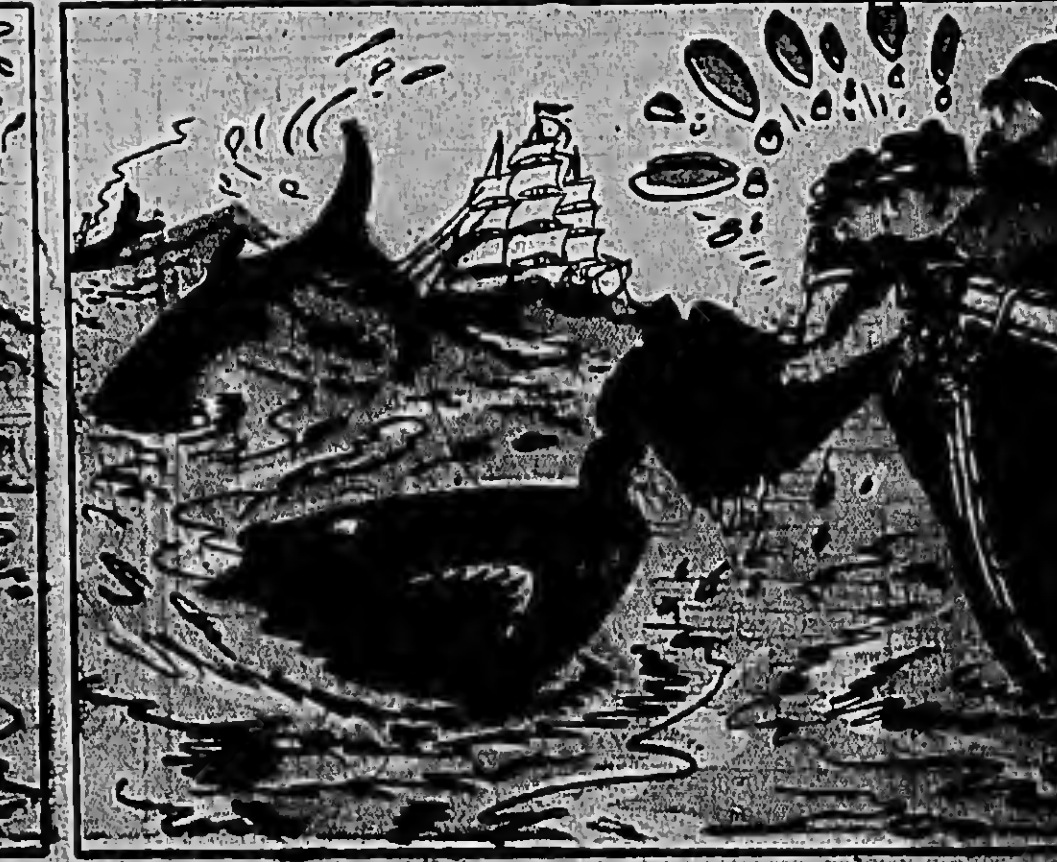

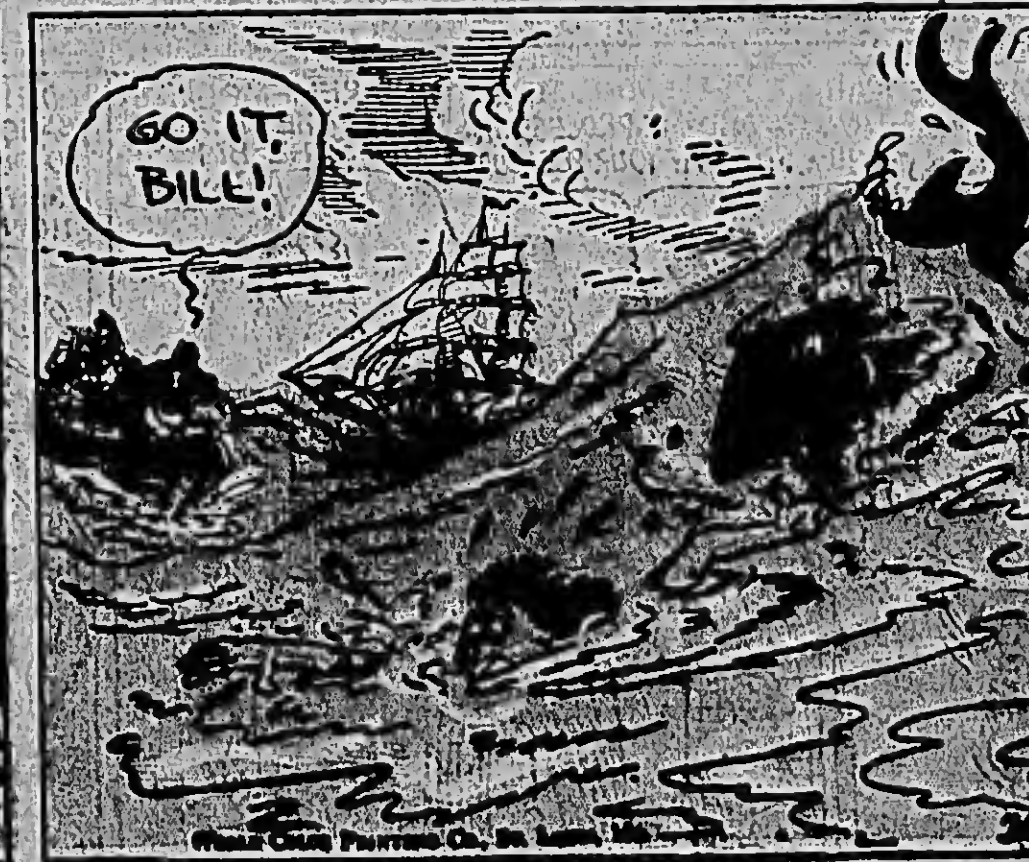

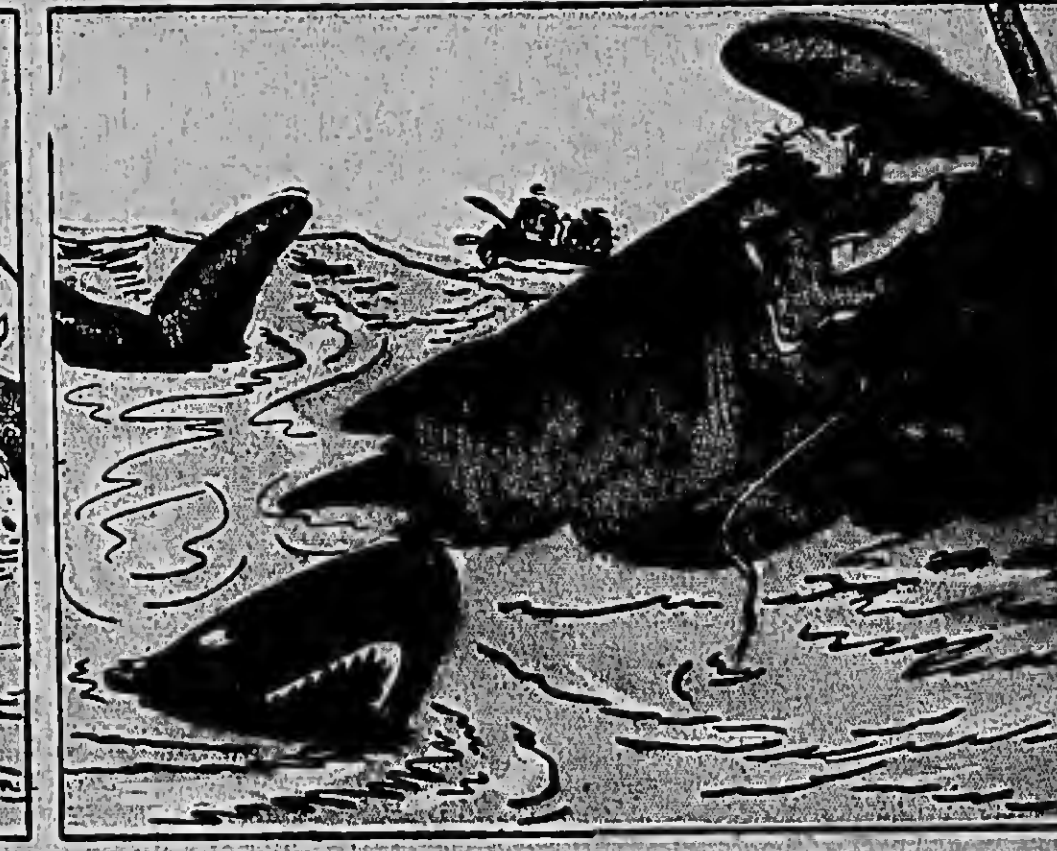

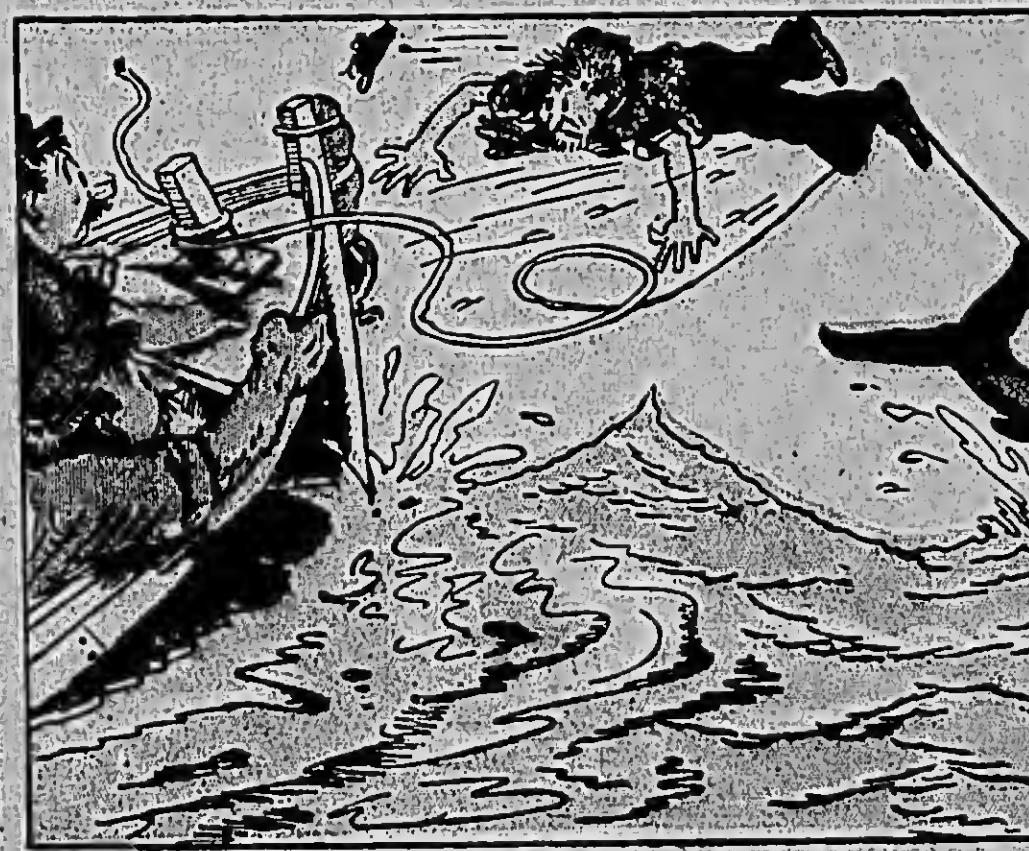

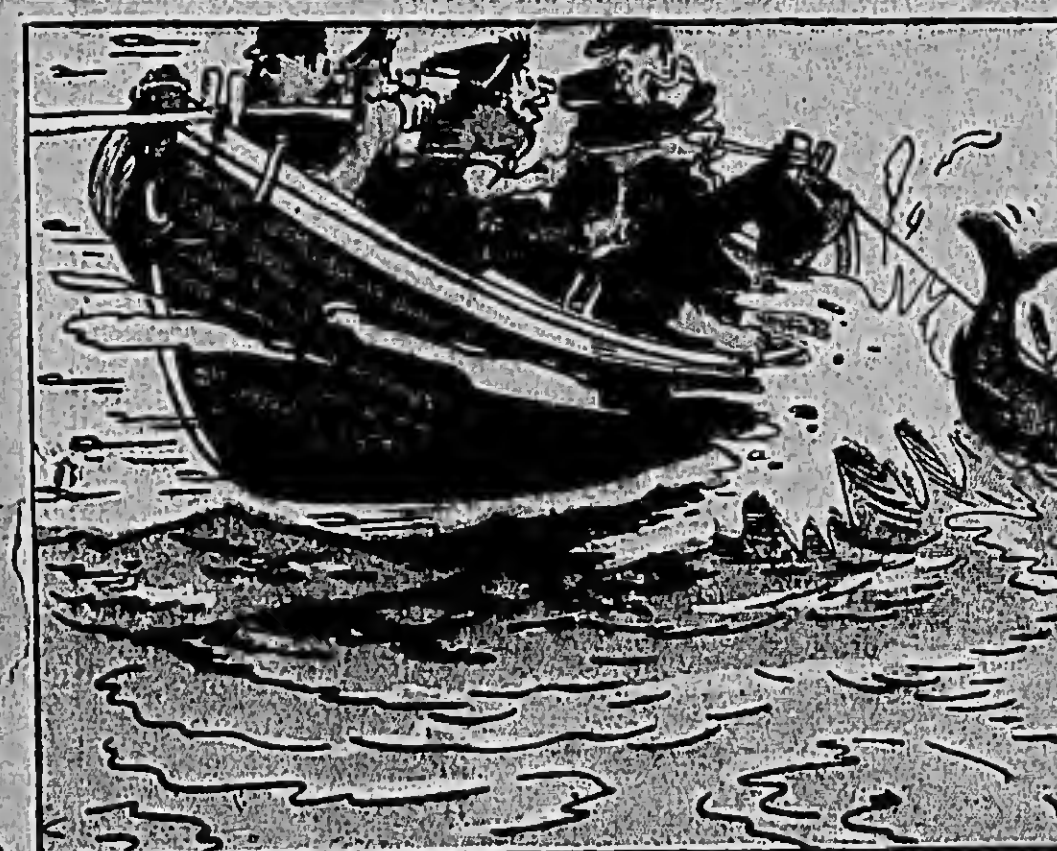

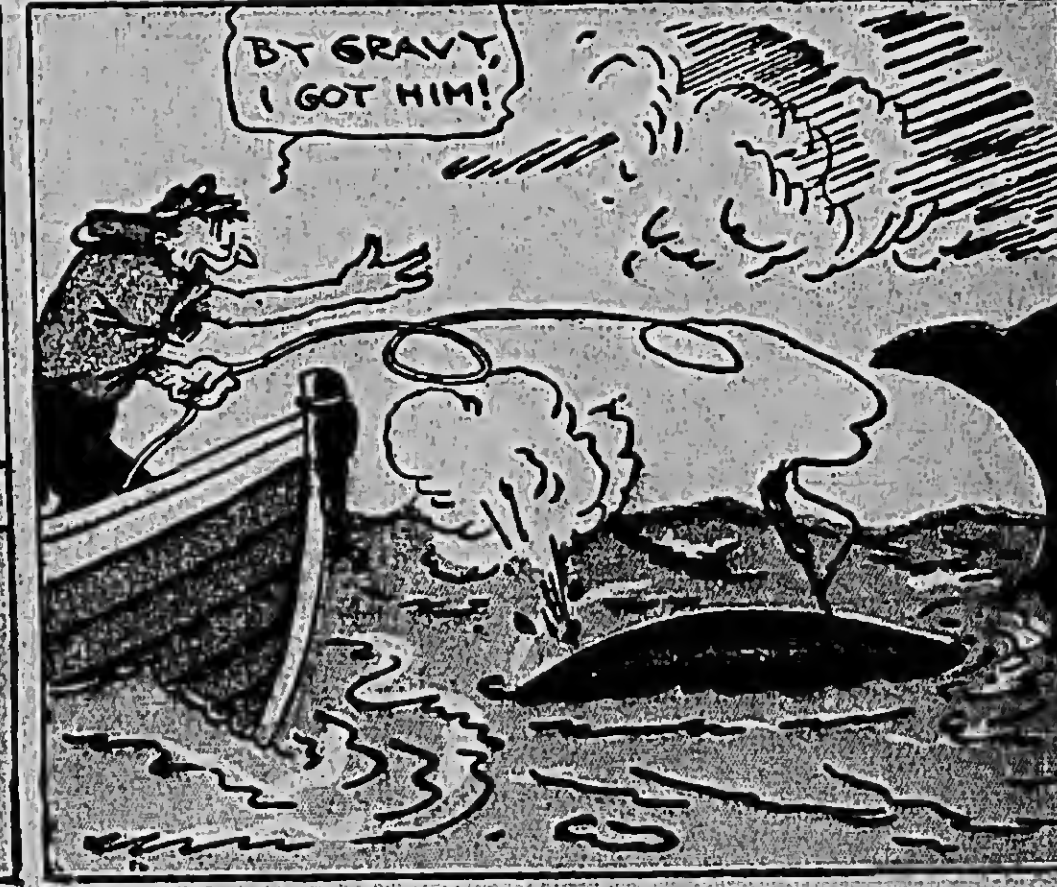

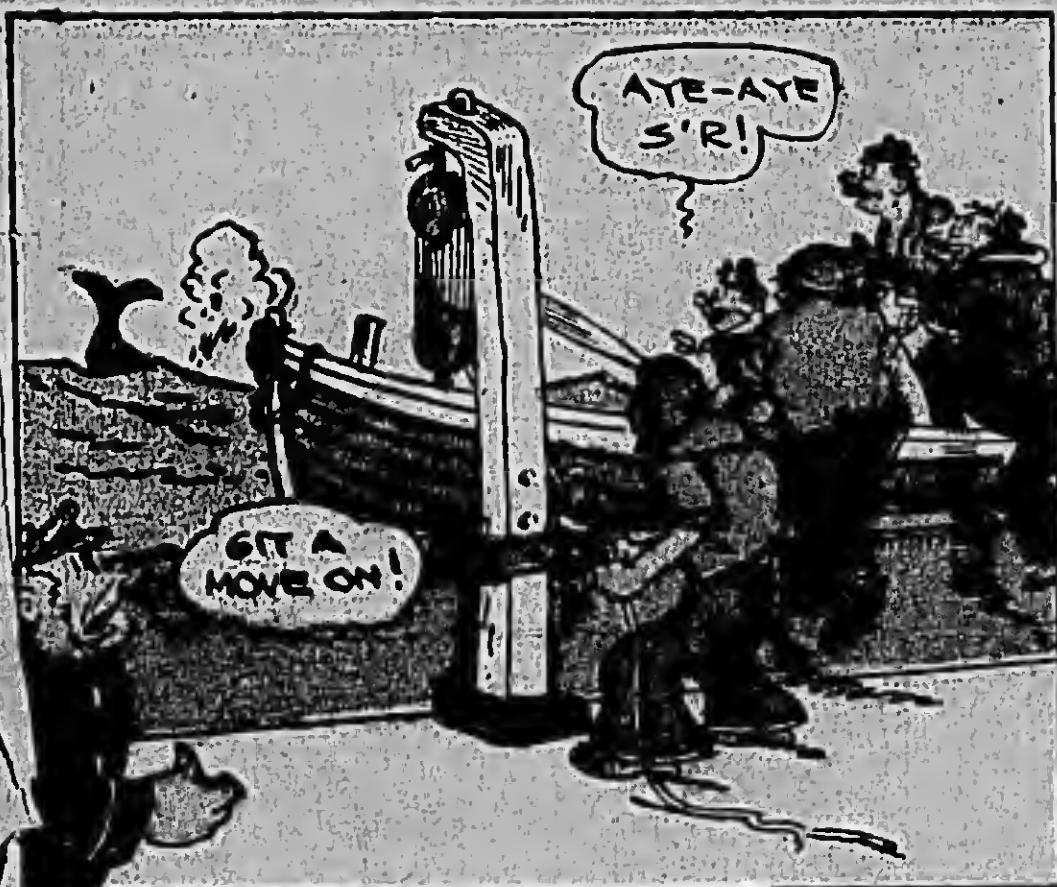

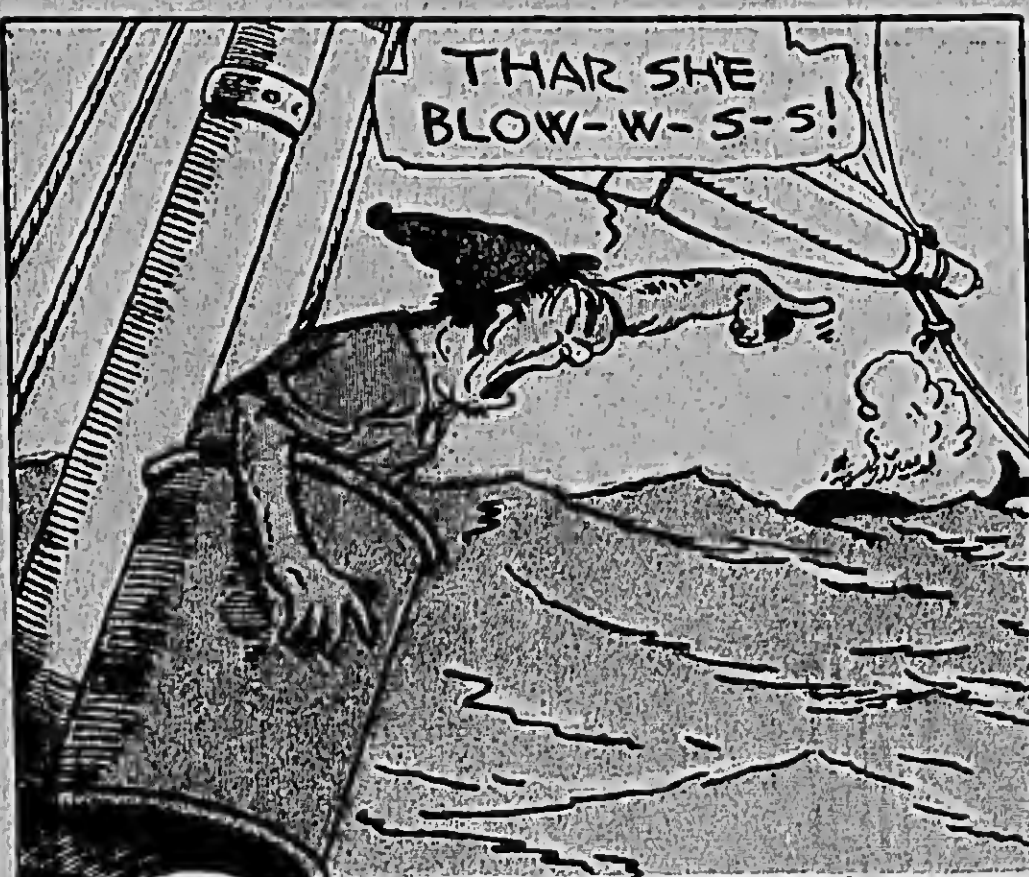

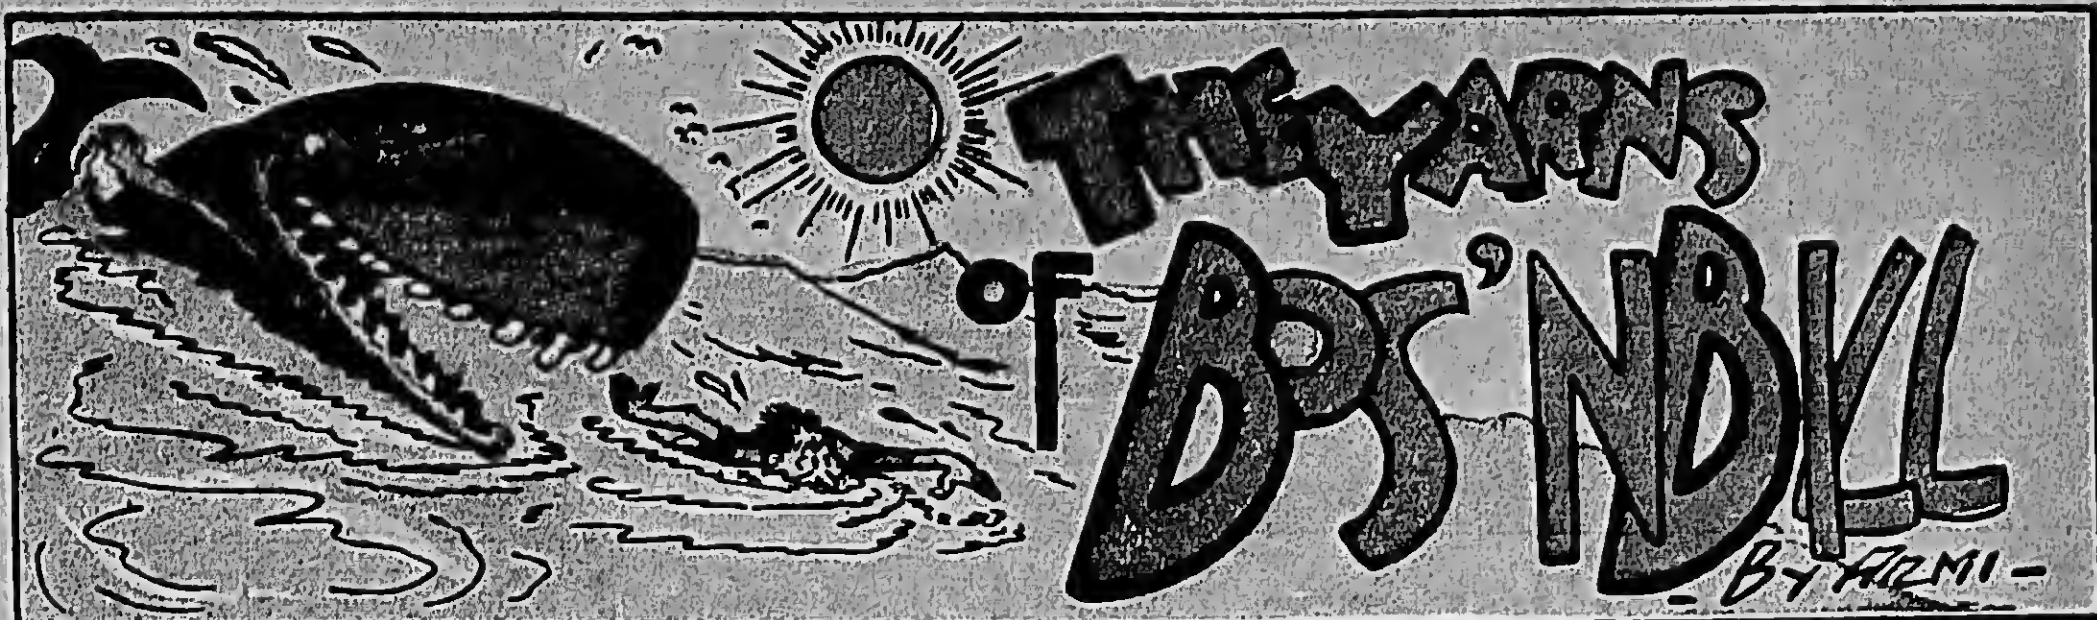

That meant he had sighted a whale. In a few minutes th' boats were over th' side, headin' for th' whale, th' crew of each boat pullin' like mad so that their harpooner would be th' first to heave th' first harpoon. As luck would have it, th' boat I was in reaches th' whale first. In jif time I had an iron fast, and then th' fun started. Instead of divin', as whales generally do when harpooned, this old boy started off over th' surface of the sea.

Without knowin' it, I was standin' in a loop of th' rope fastened to th' harpoon in th' whale, and that rope was whizzin' out over th' bow of th' boat. All at once I was jerked overboard and away I went, sometimes over th' waves, and sometimes through them as th' whale towed me after him.

All at once th' whale stopped and lay still on th' water. And then, just beyond th' end of his tail I saw th' dorsal fin of a shark cuttin' through th' water right for me. Th' boat was comin' as fast as th' men could pull; but I knew it would never beat that shark. Then what did I do but shin up th' harpoon rope, right to th' top of th' whale's back.

He must have felt me climbin', for all at once he dived and left me kickin' in th' water. Well s'r, I'd given up all hope when th' boat hove alongside and I was yanked aboard just as th' shark's big mouth snapped shut behind me.
